Hearst Begun Contest When He Learned of Printing of Ballots With Which It is Alleged Ballot Boxes Were to Be Stuffed.

New York, Nov. 9.—A statement issued from Hearst's headquarters late tonight states that an examination of the defective ballots shows that more than 8000 which should have been counted for the Municipal Ownership candidate. It is asserted that these ballots were marked with a cross beneath the Municipal Ownership emblem, and in a circle over Jerome's name.

Hearst says that these ballots should be counted, pending the judicial decision of their validity. He asserts that if these had been counted, he would be elected without the recount of the entire vote.

Attorney General Mayer stated tonight that he had received information of the recovery, in the North river, of certain ballot boxes used in the election Tuesday.

Mayer refused to discuss the matter further than to say it was alleged the boxes had been picked up by a tug. The ballot boxes said to have been stolen and discovered tonight, were taken to Jerome's office and closely examined.

HEARST GOT WISE

Heard That Ballots Were Being Printed and Begun Contest.

New York, Nov. 9.—The contest over the mayoralty election inaugurated by W. R. Hearst developed several interesting and spectacular features today. For twelve hours boxes containing nearly 600,000 ballots cast Tuesday choked the streets in the vicinity of the headquarters of the Board of Elections. Boxes were gathered during the night by the police and conveyed in patrol wagons to election boards' headquarters. There the officials refused to receive the boxes and the police, acting under the order of the court had nothing to do but remain outside and await the pleasure of the election officials.

Voorhis Compelled to Accept.

Apprised of the situation, Hearst's attorneys appeared before Justice Dickey of the State Supreme Court, and secured an order compelling President Voorhis of the election board to accept the ballots. The order was served promptly and the ballots received for by the election board. Under strong guards, the patrol wagons containing the boxes were driven to the various warehouses in this city and Brooklyn, and stored subject to the orders of the election board.

State Attorney General Mayer had an important conference with District Attorney Jerome, after which it was decided that the District Attorney's office should remain open until midnight tonight.

Superintendent of elections Morgan appeared before Mayer and Jerome with his deputies and placed evidence before the prosecuting officials.

Citizens' Union Will Join.

The Citizens' Union today announced it would join forces in investigating the fraud and wrongdoing of this election, its prime object being to insure a new election law in this state.

Attorney General Mayer announced tonight that his office, and Jerome's would co-operate in the prosecution of the offenses against the election franchise. The Attorney General has received large bundles of subpoenas from the District Attorney, and immediately put election deputies at work serving them. The charges are that several ballot boxes were stolen before the returns were reported, and others found unsealed, made during the day. The investigation promises to be the most thorough ever made in New York City.

Mayor McClellan today engaged counsel, among them being Judge Alton B. Parker, Democratic candidate for the presidency in 1904.

SENSATIONAL DEVELOPMENTS

Ballot Boxes Taken to The Bureau of Elections.

New York, Nov. 9.—Sensational developments followed rapidly this morning, in the fight of William R. Hearst to contest the mayoralty election of Geo. B. McClellan. Having secured last night an order from Justice Gaynor, in Brooklyn, directing the police department to deliver the ballot boxes to the Board of Elections forthwith, Hearst men lost no time in dispatching fifty automobiles carrying men armed with the court's order, to the various police stations, where they demanded the ballot boxes. In most instances the officers in charge at police stations directed that the boxes be placed in patrol wagons and each lot, guarded by five policemen, was hurried to the office of the Board of Elections at 786 Greenwich street.

Meanwhile other Hearst men had gone to the home of John R. Voorhis, President of the Board of Elections, at 112 West Forty-second street and asked him to immediately go to his office.

Voorhis Refuses to Go.

President Voorhis was surprised at the peremptory demand and was quickly informed of the court's order. Later he appeared at a window and addressing the Hearst men who fairly surrounded house, said that he would not go to the office of the Bureau of Elections at such an unreasonable hour but that he would appear at his office and open the same at 9 o'clock, the usual hour today.

At 3 o'clock this morning wagons and automobiles filled with ballot boxes, police officers and Hearst watchers, began to arrive at the office of the Board of Elections, and an hour later Greenwich Street in that vicinity was fairly impassable.

Unable to get rid of their charges there was nothing for the police to do, but await the opening of the office and everyone of the twelve boxes were guarded by five policemen, making a most impressive array of officers. As the morning advanced the balance of the 8000 boxes continued to arrive and Hearst watchers as numerous as the Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 9.—Five Hundred men employed by the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Victoria, Vancouver and Eastern, a Hill enterprise, engaged in a fight today for supremacy and right-of-way, over the disputed section near Midway.

REMAINS ARE FOUND

Body of Allen Discovered Floating on the Ohama.

While Allie Geroy was out hunting along the Ohama river, at Wilson's bridge, near Seaside yesterday morning, he saw what he at first thought was a turpentine barrel floating on the water, but which, on investigation, proved to be a man's head. He summoned help, and the body of John J. Allen, who has been missing since October 25, was brought to the surface.

On that date some children returning from school found the fishing tackle of the old man on the bridge. He evidently fell into the river, where his body caught on a snag.

In Allen's room, shortly after he was missed, Mrs. Spencer, his landlady, found a note, saying, "In case of accident, notify Mrs. Jennie Allen, Bristol, Mich." A letter was sent at the time, and the woman proved to be the dead man's wife. A son wrote that they were unable to bring the body back to Michigan. Allen was a member of the G. A. R. post at Bristol, but had not been there for a number of years. He had lived at Seaside but a short time. He received a pension of $17 a month, and was about 65 years old. Dan Moore, of Hotel Moore had offered a reward of $25 for the recovery of the old man's body.

Coroner Pohl was notified yesterday and Deputy Coroner Pohl left for Seaside last evening. He will bring the remains to this city today. In the pocket a watch and about $50 was found.

DESIRE TO DESTROY

Herrick Tells Why People Did Not Vote for Him.

Columbus, Nov. 9.—Governor Herrick tonight gave out a statement to the Associated Press on the subject of his defeat in re-election as Governor.

Herrick does not attribute his defeat to the Republican party in Ohio, to national causes or to mismanagement in state affairs as Democrats, as he states it would appear.

It was due, according to the Governor to the general desire to strike down or destroy something. He says he regrets the defeat only on account of the disappointment felt by thousands of Republicans in the state, who supported him.

He concludes by declaring he discharged the duties as Governor with an eye to the best interests of the people and says he would do the same thing over again.

THAT ALBANY HOUSE

Insurance Investigation Committee Wants to Know.

KEEPER ON WITNESS STAND

Maintained by Officers of Mutual Life and Vouchers for "Legal Expenses," "Traveling Expenses" and "Sundries" Show Money Expended.

New York, Nov. 9.—The house at Albany, which the testimony before the Insurance Investigating Committee, has heretofore shown was maintained by the funds of the Mutual Life, was given some attention by Counsel Hughes today. Michael P. Mullaney, caretaker of the house identified a number of vouchers for money received by him.

Some are purported to be legal expenses, some for traveling expenses, and some for sundries. Mullaney testified that he was not a lawyer and could not explain why the vouchers were made out to that item. Counsel Beck for the Mutual Life, called Hughes' attention to the fact that all vouchers for the maintenance of this house had been charged as legal expenses. Hughes replied that it didn't explain the items charged to railroad expenses.

Mullaney Didn't Know.

Mullaney did not know what the sundries were, unless the supplies were meant. He had made several trips to New York, to see A. C. Fields, stationery agent of the Mutual, who also looked after legislative matters.

President Hageman, of the Metropolitan Life and his actuary, occupied a large part of today's proceedings. Hageman in the course of his testimony said his salary was $100,000, the same as President McCall's of New York Life. He also stated that the salary of Vice President Fisk was $75,000; that of Second Vice President, Gaston $37,500, and Third Vice President, Ayres, $16,250.

TROOPS FIGHT MUTINEERS

Liquor-Crazed Soldiers Revolt at Cronstadt.

CITY PANIC STRICKEN

Cossacks Engage in Hunting Down and Capturing the Mutineers.

MANY YET UNSURRENDERED

Heavens Reflect Glare of the Smouldering Fires and the Inhabitants are Fleeing From the City—St. Petersburg in Furore of Excitement.

Cronstadt, (Midnight).—Many of the workmen and civilian population has fled or is trying to leave the city and the docks are piled high with freight.

Fires are still glowing and stores and houses are boarded up and the troops are patrolling the streets. Though the majority of the mutineers have surrendered, several hundred are yet entrenched in the eastern section of the town. They have thrown up barricades but are surrounded and machine guns are posted all through the streets leading to their stronghold. It is expected the remainder will surrender tomorrow.

IN FURORE OF EXCITEMENT.

Many False Reports Afloat at the Capital City.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 10.—This city has been in a furore of excitement all day and late into the night over the news of the mutiny at Cronstadt. Every one of the exaggerated reports of the affair received is given credence in many quarters and half of the inhabitants at the capital have believed it successful; that troops sent from here had joined the revolt; that the entire garrison of St. Petersburg would follow today; that Cronstadt had been burned to the ground together with the surrounding forts.

The place is represented as being in the hands of 8000 sailors who murdered their officers, seized the arsenal and bombarded the Imperial palace at Peterhof. The butchery was said to have prevailed in all the streets and rumors even went to the extent of saying that Father John of Cronstadt had left the bed on which he was dying to lead the mutineers.

Sensational Reports False.

Many sensational reports were entirely false, but sufficient details were received to prove that about 3000 sailors and a battalion of artillery from one of the efforts, indulged in mutiny, which required about 7000 Cossacks and troops of the Imperial guard to put down, and that machine guns were employed.

Before the arrival of the troops, the sailors, many of whom were drunk, had set fire to the markets and several of the houses. About 200 sailors are still holding out at midnight, and although these are expected to surrender today, the authorities became so alarmed that another regiment was dispatched to Cronstadt at 1 o'clock this morning. The Governor at Cronstadt telegraphed at midnight that the mutiny had been crushed, that there was no likelihood of a renewal of the revolt, and that the reports to the effect that members of the guard had joined the mutineers, was false, and that there was no truth in the report that the mutineers had seized the arsenal and he forts.

Casualties Estimated at 200.

The Governor gave no estimate of the casualties. The correspondent of the Associated Press, who is on the ground, says officers estimate the casualties at 200, which certainly is very conservative in view of the reports of the refugees. No attempt is made in government circles to minimize the seriousness of the mutiny, and it is feared the mutiny will have a bad effect on the morals of the troops, which are already badly shaken by the revolutionary propaganda.

Clergy Wants Peace Restored.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 9.—The Orthodox clergy, under the direction of the new Procurator General, Prince Obolensky, issued a stirring appeal to the provincial priests to aid in the restoration of peace to the country today. Flossoff, controller of the empire.

TROOPS HAVE UPPER HAND

Fighting Ceased in Streets and Town Is Quiet.

Cronstadt, Nov. 9.—The heavens reflected the glare of the smouldering fires, as the Associated Press correspondent approached Cronstadt tonight.

Upon landing, however, inquiry revealed the fact that troops and loyal sailors, apparently had the upper hand. Fighting had ceased in the streets and the town was quiet, but fears are expressed of trouble later on.

Tonight patrols are engaged in hunting down and capturing the mutineers. The outbreak started yesterday when the sailors of the Seventh Fort Equipment, revolted and killed some of their officers.

Troops Plunder Spirit Shops.

They marched out to the barracks and immediately plundered four spirit shops. Crazed with liquor, they returned, seized their arms and went on a rampage, firing promiscuously upon troops and loyal soldiers.

Later they were joined by many of their comrades. Firing continued from midnight till this morning when the terror-stricken inhabitants began to flee. The lowest estimates placed upon the dead is at fifty. Several regiments of troops with machine guns from St. Petersburg and Oranienbaum, landed today.

PITT PREDICTED WAR BUT BALFOUR PREDICTS PEACE

London, Nov. 10.—"A century ago, William Pitt, standing where I now stand today, predicted war. Today I prophesy peace."

This was the text on which Premier Balfour based his speech concerning the relations of Great Britain with foreign countries at the Lord Mayor's banquet in Guild hall tonight. Mr. Balfour and Whitelaw Reid, the American Ambassador, who replied to the toast, "Their Excellencies, Foreign Ministers," vied with each other in pleasant words for the credit of their respective countries as the leaders among the advocates for arbitration. The Premier's reference to Russia was in a particularly happy vein.
